

Helen Strickland

NOLES-FRYE
Branch Manager, Alexandria

Helen's management experience comes from owning and operating two retail stores from 1993-2004, in North Carolina. She pursued her interest in real estate sales and obtained her real estate license in 2003. She went to work for a very large firm in Wilmington, NC where she received extensive sales training.

Helen obtained her NC broker's license in 2008. She left her growing, successful real estate business to move back "home" to Alexandria to be closer to family. She is thriving in her new position and is pleased with the recent acquisition by Latter & Blum, Inc. Helen is a licensed broker in North Carolina and Louisiana. She is a member of Central Louisiana Board REALTORS®, as well as the State and National Association of REALTORS®.

Noles-Frye Realty is the number ONE real estate firm in the Central Louisiana area with a team of the most experienced, professional and highly trained agents in Alexandria. Sales Manager, Helen Budd Strickland brings to Noles-Frye new and innovative training techniques and hands on leadership. She is readily available to assist her team with all aspects of a transaction in order to bring a smooth closing, providing support for the team and introducing the latest real estate marketing tools.
